

Submissions must be entered through the submission system at the conference website: www.software-quality-days.com

The session time is assumed to include any presentation/discussion time (45 minutes: 35-40 min. for presentation and 5-10 min. for discussion).

Authors of accepted contributions agree to provide the slides of the presentation and/or an extended paper representing the content of the presentation for the download area of the conference website.

Practical presentations must be directly relevant to users in order to be approved. Presentations by tool suppliers and consultants will only be allowed if the presentation has a practical focus. Excessively long personal and company introductions (more than 2-3 minutes) should be avoided. Presentations done in conjunction with a customer will be preferred.

Presentations by tool vendors will only be accepted if they deal with fundamental methods that are generally applicable or provide practical information without referring to specific tools. Companies are welcome to give presentations focusing on their own tools in the Solution Provider Forum as part of a sponsorship deal.

In order to qualify as a scientific presentation, the presentation concerned must display the relevant level of innovation and/or be backed up by research results. It is also expected to be applicable and practical.

The programme committee subjects scientific presentations to a particularly rigorous set of critical criteria and expects the scientific aspect to be appropriately reflected in applications.

Positioning of your presentation

Your choice of topic will be referred to the programme committee for approval. It is not possible to "book" a specific day or track at the conference. If accepted, your presentation will be allocated to the most suitable section of the programme.

Co-Speakers / Speaker changes:

A maximum of 2 speakers per presentation will be accepted.

Speakers can only be changed before the completion of the conference program (approx. 4 months before conference date).

Deadlines for submission and accepted file formats
